This course is designed to provide a basic foundation of skills to allow learners to access their next steps in a more formal learning setting.

Course description

In this very beginners course, learners will develop confidence to interact with everyday topics like travel, health and where you live. We will focus on basic literacy skills as well as exchanging basic information.

The course is open to learners who did not learn to read or write in their home countries and want to start their literacy journey here in the UK.

We will practise forming and writing letters and numbers, forming sounds and words in speaking and writing as well as learning the numbers. It is hoped this will make you more confidence when interacting day to day in the UK and help your job prospects also.

The course is designed to prepare learners for a pre-entry class in the new academic year.
