Course overview

The purpose of this course is to aid you in finding the confidence and inspiration to get writing, using photographs as stimulus to creating original writing and developing creative skills. Using your own photography, we will create a unique piece of writing which can be fact or fiction. You will learn some handy tips and tricks to really bring out the writer in you!

Course description

Every picture tells a story! In this short course we put the focus on getting creative as inspired by a variety of pictures (ideally taken by yourself with a different theme to prompt us each session).

We will apply some key hints, tricks and craft to our writing which could be fact, fiction or somewhere in between - we use our own creativity by putting pen to paper.
