Course overview

Enhance your English and numeracy skills for the care sector with our Level 1 ESOL: ESOL - Numeracy Skills for Care Employees course. Focus on practical communication and numeracy needed for care work. Ideal for non-native speakers seeking employment in the care sector.

Course description

Level 1 ESOL: ESOL - Numeracy Skills for Care Employees is designed to help non-native English speakers improve their language and numeracy skills for working in the care sector. This course covers essential aspects of English communication and numeracy, including practical vocabulary and phrases used in care settings, basic arithmetic, and understanding numerical information. Participants will learn how to apply these skills in everyday tasks such as administering medication, recording patient information, and managing care schedules. The course includes interactive activities, role-plays, and real-life scenarios that build confidence and proficiency. By the end of the course, participants will have a solid foundation in English and numeracy skills, enhancing their employability and ability to provide high-quality care. This course is ideal for non-native speakers seeking to improve their skills for employment in the care sector.
