Course overview

This is the fifth course of six, aimed at elementary (A1/A2) level learners. This five-week course is for those whose first language is NOT English and will practice all four major skills in each session to develop reading, writing, speaking, and listening. Although this is a low-level English course, learners should be able to recognise sounds of the English letters and read simple lines of text prior to joining so that they would not struggle. Lessons will be delivered face-to-face using a range of teacher led and freer interactive activities to build learners' proficiency and confidence in the English language.

Course description

In this six-week ESOL course, (English for Speakers of Other Languages) learners will practice their reading, writing, speaking, and listening skills through the topics of: directions, food, water, holiday plans, predictions, menus and recipes. Grammar will focus on: a/an, some/any, how much/how many? Quantifiers: alot, not much etc., be going to for plans and be going to for predictions. Vocabulary will focus on: street furniture and giving directions, food, countable/uncountable nouns, drinks, holidays, verb phrases. Functional English will include role playing ordering a meal at a restaurant and following basic instructions for recipes. Learners will engage in a range of activities including pair work, groupwork, games, written and verbal exercises. There will also be a written assignment in which learners will write instructions for make a favourite sandwich using an example for scaffolding. It is hoped that learners will progress to the next course in the series upon successful completion.
