Course overview

This course is designed for individuals interested in delving into the world of textile design and construction. Whether you're a beginner or have some experience, this course will guide you through the process of designing and creating your own textiles and garments. You will learn the fundamentals of textile design, including pattern creation, fabric manipulation, and surface design techniques. The course will also cover garment construction, from drafting patterns to sewing and finishing your own fashion pieces. Through hands-on projects and creative exploration, participants will develop the skills needed to bring their textile and fashion ideas to life.

Course description

This course is designed for individuals interested in delving into the world of textile design and construction. Whether you're a beginner or have some experience, this course will guide you through the process of designing and creating your own textiles and garments. Learners will be able to understand the basics of textile design, which would include pattern creation and fabric manipulation. Learners will also learn the fundamentals of garment construction, from drafting your own pattern to sewing. This will include designing the garment, including pattern creation, fabric manipulation, and surface design techniques, and developing the ability to combine design and construction skills to create unique textiles and fashion pieces of work. The course will also cover garment construction, from drafting patterns to sewing and finishing your own fashion pieces and experiment with many different materials and techniques to express individual personal creativity. Learners will also gain an insight into the history and cultural significance of textile design. Through hands-on projects, peer and tutor support and creative exploration, learners will develop the skills needed to bring their textile and fashion ideas to life and complete a final design project that will showcase both design and constructions skills.
