Course overview

This is a short series of four lectures on a key period of Modern British and European History. The course will consist of lectures supported by PowerPoint illustrations. The aim is to provide an introduction and overview to the issues being covered but no previous knowledge is expected.

Course description

A period for discussion of the material studied is also included in each session. The course will consist of lectures supported by PowerPoint illustrations. Some guidance on further reading and other sources of study will be provided.

Topics will include an exploration of the causes and consequences of the 1926 General Strike. An assessment of the governments of Stanley Baldwin and his leadership of the Conservative Party. The causes of the 1931 Economic Crisis and the consequences that this had on British Politics. The Final lecture will be about the rise to power of Hitler in Germany with a focus on the politics of late Weimar Germany 1930-33.
